

Careers at the IRS

OFFICE OF CHIEF COUNSEL

A great place to start

A great place to build a career

The mission of the Office of Chief Counsel at the IRS is to serve America's taxpayers fairly and with integrity by providing correct and impartial interpretation of the Internal Revenue laws and the highest quality legal advice and representation for the Internal Revenue Service.

Why work for the Office of Chief Counsel, IRS?

- Be a part of the largest tax law firm in the country
- Develop expertise in cutting-edge tax issues
- Gain experience litigating cases early in your career
- Participate in great training and development programs
- Work in a collegial environment
- Receive excellent federal benefits

To learn more about the Office of Chief Counsel, visit:
jobs.irs.gov/counsel

National Office (DC)

- Corporate (CORP)
- Employee Benefits, Exempt Organizations, and Employment Taxes (EEE)
- Financial Institutions & Products (FIP)
- Income Tax & Accounting (ITA)
- International (INTL)
- National Taxpayer Advocate Program (NTA)
- Passthroughs & Special Industries (PSI)
- Procedure and Administration (P&A)
- Wage & Investment (W&I)

National & Field Offices

- Criminal Tax (CT)
- General Legal Services (GLS)

Field Offices

- Large Business & International (LB&I)
- Small Business/Self Employed (SB/SE)
- Tax Exempt & Government Entities Division (TEGEDC)